DEPUTIES' MEETING

Tuesday, 20 October 1953

PRESENT: Mr. Dulles, General Cabell, Messrs. Wisner, Amory, Kirkpatrick, [redacted] Sheldon and [redacted]

Mr. Dulles:

[redacted]

b. Reported that in a recent conversation with Admiral Radford he (Radford) had indicated that [redacted] was dissatisfied with his position and had indicated an interest in joining CIA. Mr. Amory undertook to get in touch with [redacted]. The Director also noted Admiral Radford mentioned [redacted] who was also to get in touch with the Agency concerning employment and noted his intention to speak in further detail with Admiral Radford on this.

[redacted]

d. Referred to an article on CIA by James Burnham in the 15 August TABLET and stated he assumed the Burnham case was properly documented in the event it comes up.

[redacted]

f. Noted that the subject of [redacted] and the proposed project [redacted] was up again and asked [redacted] to find out what it would cost to buy and store [redacted]. This, the Director said, he would require for the OCB Meeting tomorrow. Mr. Wisner drew the Director's attention to his memorandum of 8 October on this subject which pointed out in part that in view of the publicity given this program it would appear it could no longer be considered a covert operation and, therefore, we should be off the hook once and for all. [redacted] undertook to again show the above-cited memorandum to the Director.

g. Noted he had discussed with Mr. John Hughes [redacted] request that CIA furnish Mr. Hughes with all possible available current intelligence and stated Mr. Amory had this matter in hand.

General Cabell:

Briefly reported on the first session with the Bureau of the Budget.
